Adding the archive to your collection

In 2009 the archive contains all content published between 1874 and 1998. Content from the most recent ten years continues to be included with your current subscriptions.

Subscribe

The archive is available as an annual subscription for customers outside of North, Central and South America. In 2009 we added over 8,000 articles from the 1998 volume. Place your subscription order for the archive using the form below.

Owning the archive

The archive is available to buy for a one-time fee. You can either load content locally or have permanent rights to view the data through the IOP web server. Customers interested in this option can choose to pay in up to five installments. If you would like to discuss purchasing the archive please contact your IOP Regional Representative for more information. You can see a full list of regional representatives at www.iop.org/EJ/enquiries.
